HISTORY OF THE CLASSIC SPRITZES

Dating from the end of the 19th century, spritzes originated in northern Italy. A popular cocktail in the 1920s, they continue to rise in popularity, now having many interpretations and variations. The famous Aperol Spritz recipe was born in the 1950s, quickly becoming a favourite in Italy... then globally.

In the south of Italy, on the Amalfi Coast and Sicily, the Limoncello Spritz was born. Limoncello is made by steeping the zest of Sorrento or Sfusato lemons in a neutral spirit, then mixing with sugar syrup.

The Hugo Spritz’s origins lie amid the Dolomite mountain range. It is flavoured with elderflower cordial, a floral base allowing the Prosecco flavour to shine through, offering an alternative to the more popular Italian spritzes.
