

Code of conduct

This multi-faith prayer room has been provided by Heathrow Airport for the benefit of all airport users (including colleagues, passengers and members of the public). Please respect the space and the needs of all users.

Noise should be kept to a minimum.

Footwear may be removed. Store removed footwear in the racks provided.

Return prayer mats and other items after use. Leave the room tidy.

Bags and personal possessions must be kept close by and not left unattended at any time.

No preaching or leading of services is permitted without permission from the chaplains.

Heathrow Airport is not responsible for any views expressed and speakers are requested to promote the common good of all users.

Any literature left or notices displayed without permission will be removed.

Mobile phone conversations are not permitted.

This area is not for eating or drinking.

No sleeping.

Do not drink from the ablutions.

Do not use this area for the changing of clothes.

The above has been agreed by Heathrow Airport and representatives from each religious group within the chaplaincy team and is provided for the benefit of all. Failure to adhere to it may lead to you being asked to leave the area by a chaplain or a member of security staff.
